To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Joe Noonan / Crew Synergy

I had the pleasure of meeting Joe Noonan at an introductory demonstration of his team building methodology in Fort Lauderdale recently.

Utilizing a group of diverse yachting industry professionals, Joe very quickly had us all working together to achieve simple and effective team building exercises. We worked so well together, that an external observer would have thought we were employees from one firm rather than a diverse group of competitors. The techniques demonstrated traversed corporate and cultural barriers and unified all members of the team with a clear objective.

The strong corporate experiences that Joe has were clear to see and the translation of this professional experience is something that I feel many yachting industry companies and yacht crew could benefit from.

Within my own company, I am suggesting Joe's interaction to our "managed" fleet and am integrating him and his methods into our existing internal team building events.

I wish Joe every success with launching Crew Synergy into the yachting industry, and am happy to recommend him to you.

Yours faithfully,

Rupert Connor
